WRITING PROMPT: EDUCATE YOURSELF

Think about a disability that you would like to discover more about and do some research. Take note of anything new, interesting, or unique that you learn. While you research, consider the following questions: How can you share what you learn with your friends and family? In what ways can you use your knowledge to become a better ally to someone who has this disability? Write your thoughts and findings in 1-2 paragraphs.

